NEW UNITS DUE BOOST ONIGH

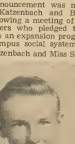
A meeting for all Brigham Young University students interested in forming new social units will be held today at 6:30 p.m. in the Maeser assembly.

The announcement was made by Jon Katzenbach and Betsy Sears following a meeting of student leaders who pledged their support to an expansion program of the campus social system.

Mr. Katzenbach and Miss Sears were appointed co-chairmen of an Inter-organizational Council committee to study the social unit problem. Other committee members are Tom Jones, Marilyn Ballif, LaVon Thomander, Jack Roberts, Dailin Gardner, Beverly Miller and Boyd Lake.

Student leaders selected by the committee will work in groups of four as advisers to the new units.

JON KATZENBACH
. . . Advisers for All.



BETSY SEARS
. . . Promotes Expansion.

Groups will also give aid to Altra Mitra and Ama Phi girls' units whose memberships at present are dangerously low.

Advisers Named

Those who are aiding in the program are Barbara Romney, Alice Brady, Olene Smith, Gloria Wallis Rytting, Betty Martini, Rolayce Spratling, Birdene Terry, Lucile Rowe, Phil Sanigrove, Pat Pomeroy, Don Van Slooten, Jim Faramore, Ruth Ellen May, Nelda Stewart, Eileen Schipper, Mary Lois Bolingbroke, Mary Louise Udall, Vonda Christensen, Peggy Wood, Afton Ash, Dick Hush, Darcy Clawson, Norm Eilertson and Homer Jensen.

Rushing Postponed

At a special meeting of the IOC prior to Christmas vacation, rushing date for winter quarter was postponed until January 21 in order to allow new units to organize in time to join in rush week activities. A permanent moratorium was placed on all units listing more than 40 active members prior to rushing each quarter.

The meeting tonight will be for the purpose of presenting the points in the organization plan to students who wish to participate in the social unit setup.

Mr. Katzenbach indicated that the committee expects to organize two men's and two girls' units, but he stressed that student advisers will be available for all groups that desire to organize.

Orme Seeks Applicants For Business Manager; Post Vacated by Money

A vacancy has been created in the student Executive Council by Mark Money, business manager, in receipt of his "greetings" from the President, has left school this quarter anticipating a February 1st departure to the armed forces.

Keith Orme, studentbody president, has set in motion the machinery to fill the position. Applications for business manager are being accepted as provided for in the constitution, according to Mr. Orme. He outlined the following steps for applicants:

1. Applications are due Thursday at 5 p.m. They are to be submitted to Mr. Orme personally.

2. Applicants must have 1.5 grade point average, with no more than 5 hours of "D"

3. Applicants must have 140 hours of college credit.

4. Applicants must have attended BYU for at least two quarters, one being the quarter just past (autumn, 1951).

The committee considering the applications will include the studentbody president, business manager, second vice president, student councilor, Dean of students, and Dean of the College of Commerce. The selection committee will narrow the list of candidates to two. The winner will be declared in a manner not yet disclosed by President Orme, since no constitutional provision has been made to cover the situation.

SNOW QUEEN BIDS DUE SOON

Deadline for petitions for Snow queen has been set for Monday at 5 p.m., according to Jim Solomon, Snow Carnival chairman.

Each organization, club and unit on campus is invited to enter a contestant for queen. The petitions, which must have fifty signatures, may be obtained from and returned to the Student Coordinator's office.

The queen chosen to reign over the Snow Carnival festivities, will be judged on the following: skiing or skating ability, appearance in skiing or skating outfit, and popularity. Prizes, including a ski outfit, will be presented to the winner.

Y Chapter of Kappa Tau Alpha Approved by National Unit

Approval for the establishment of a chapter of Kappa Tau Alpha, national journalism scholarship society, at Brigham Young University has been given by the national council of the society, announced Dr. Oliver R. Smith, chairman of the journalism department at BYU.

National officers or a representative of the national council will come to the Y campus either this quarter or spring quarter to install the new chapter and formally initiate its charter members.

The organization was founded at the University of Missouri in 1910 with chapters located at schools and departments of journalism in leading American colleges. The BYU chapter will be the 25th in the organization.

Kappa Tau Alpha has as its prime objective the recognition and encouragement of high scholarship among journalism students. The society gives a yearly award for the best book on journalism research, and individual chapters select distinguished men in the field of journalism for special honors.

Membership is based on character and scholarship, with members coming from the upper ten per cent of journalism students in the junior, senior and graduate classes; journalism alumni; and faculty members.

Dr. Smith expressed his belief that the chartering of a chapter of Kappa Tau Alpha will furnish impetus to a rapidly growing program of instruction and research in journalism at BYU.

SPENCER PALMER
. . . Literary Talents Too.

Committee Names Spencer Palmer Wye Staff Editor

Dr. Oliver R. Smith, student publications committee chairman, today announced the appointment of Spencer Palmer, Thatcher, Ariz., as editor of the Wye magazine for the current school year.

The magazine, which is written by students almost entirely, will be published spring quarter, according to present plans, and each student will receive one free copy.

Several staff positions are still open and applications for the posts are being accepted by Prof. Thomas B. Cheney, member of the English faculty and adviser for the magazine.

Posts open include: associate editor, art editor, photography editor, poetry editor, associate poetry editor, fiction editor, associate fiction editor, non-fiction editor, associate non-fiction editor, business manager, circulation manager and publicity director.

The magazine will be distributed free of charge to students this year.

Education Groups Honor Two Y Deans In Positions of National Prominence

Dr. William F. Edwards, Dean of the Brigham Young University College of Commerce, was elected to the Commission on Higher Schools at the recent annual meeting of the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools.

The announcement was made by Raymond M. Mosher, chairman of the commission, in a letter to Dean Edwards.

tion has as its purpose the refereeing of aid to higher schools in fulfilling their stated objectives.

Dr. Edwards gained prominence in the investment field before returning to his alma mater last winter as a dean on the faculty.

As partner, economist and director of research for Manhattan Research Asociates, Dr. Edwards had charge of trusts totaling nearly $70,000,000. The firm acted as sole investment advisor for the Manhattan Bond Fund and New York Stocks.

Appointment of Dr. Asahel D. Woodruff, dean of the Brigham Young University Graduate School, as chairman of a committee to represent the educational division of the American Psychological Association has recently been announced.

The committee will probe the area of instruction of educational psychology in the nation and recommend improvements.

Dr. Woodruff, a recognized authority in the field of psychology, received his Ph.D. degree from the University of Chicago in 1941. Before coming to the Y, he was a professor of educational psychology, director of the Bureau of Educational Research and Service, and director of the University Testing Service at Cornell University.

Members of the committee include representatives from Columbia, Cornell, Michigan, Ohio State, Illinois, Utah State, and California.

Dial Telephone System Nears Reality at BYU

By the end of this week Brigham Young University will have its own campus dial telephone system Leland M. Perry, superintendent of buildings and grounds, announced today.

Installation of the dialing equipment was completed by the Western Electric Company's technicians last week. The Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Company is testing the equipment now.

The campus exchange will have 165 telephones, a general increase over the present number. One hundred fifty lines have been added to provide for expansion. There are twelve outside trunk lines that serve the university. To handle the system a new switchboard occupies two rooms in the Physical Science building.

There will still be operators on duty to handle incoming calls and outgoing long distance calls. It will be possible to dial "out" for local calls.

All existing department numbers will be changed and new extension numbers will contain three digits. A new directory is being published.

PAPER STAFF POSTS OPEN TO STUDENTS

All students with a flare for journalism and a willingness to work are urged to attend a reorganization meeting of the UNIVERSE staff today at 4 p.m. in room 20 North bldg.

The reorganization is for the purpose of enlarging the paper staff and giving more interested students an opportunity to gain experience, according to Reid Fillmore, editor-in-chief.

Positions will be open for reporters, re-writers, copy readers, proofreaders, and headline writers. Writing positions are available in fields of general news, sports, feature, and editorial.

No 'Good' Resolutions in Korea

by Ford Poulson

Somebody tell me—where do we start on a re-hash of what has been going on in the world for the past three weeks? Even when the UNIVERSE stops "circulating," the world still goes "round." Yak!

Seems that everybody we know has been making resolutions—something to do with the New Year, we understand. Unfortunately, the "bad boys" of the world seem to have neglected this little detail, or if they didn't, the new resolutions must have been to utilize more fully the attributes of "stupidity" and "time-killing." These are just two of the words that Allied negotiators have used to describe Communist tactics in the truce negotiations in Korea.

Some progress has been made since the inception of these new negotiations on November 27; but the present bottleneck (exchange of war prisoners) has caused a general "bogging down" of the whole affair.

One happy note: A radio commentator stated yesterday that the UN negotiators were pleasantly surprised in a recent session when the Reds asked "two or three" rather intelligent questions. Wasn't that nice of them?

Maybe something definite will be forthcoming soon from the talks, but we're not holding our breath.

* * * * *

One of the great statesmen of the world—the aging Winston Churchill, after a near-record crossing of the Atlantic, has arrived in Washington for talks with President Truman and other officials.

These two straight-talking gentlemen should n't have any trouble laying their cards on the table, and getting some definite decisions.

These decisions will probably amount to some sizable financial committments on the part of Uncle Sam, to keep Britain's financial ship afloat.

The Korean war is also to be discussed in some detail. In connection with these discussions, Britain's relationship with Red China will come under U. S. fire. Our country broke off diplomatic relations with China soon after the Communists took over the government.

But Great Britain has continued diplomatic and trade relations on a small scale, ostensibly for keeping the "door open" for future negotiations. Of course, there are economic reasons, too. In her present economic position, Britain is practically forced to sell to all comers.

But economic reasons to the contrary, it seems mighty strange that nation A should sell goods to nation B, which goods will (directly or indirectly) be used to exterminate the fighting men of said nation A.

That's one of the problems that the leaders of the U. S. and Britain are wrestling with.

* * * * *

Red-controlled Hungary has had the unmitigated gall to brand the closing of her consulates in New York and Cleveland as a "rude and open violation of their (U. S.) obligations."

This, after the Hungarian government succeeded in pulling off the biggest international piracy since Machiavelli, in demanding and getting $120,000 for the release of four U. S. airmen whose plane had been forced down in Hungarian territory.

The U. S. didn't begrudge the money—the lives of the four men are, of course, beyond price. But when the Hungarians come up with the audacity to even use the term "International law" in their communication with the U. S. about the consulates, all we can do is sputter a hearty Spzfdklg!

They raise a lot of sheep in Hungary—they have to, to get all the wool they try to pull over people's eyes.

Some Tangible Progress

BYU social units are on the upswing!

The turmoil of last quarter has finally resolved itself into a plausible plan whereby social units on campus will maintain more nearly equal membership and rights. The new moratorium is a boon to the growth of social activity and gives a clear, green light to the formations of new units.

Perhaps the real break came when the light of unselfish service broke through the clouded situation in the form of twenty-four student leaders who are sacrificing their positions in already established units to undertake the tremendous task of pioneering new groups.

The democratic tradition of BYU organizations received a great impetus in this unprecedented act. It even made the violent opposition to new units and rushing limits pale somewhat in the face of such loyal devotion, so lacking in personal motive.

When the organizational din recedes, perhaps social units at BYU will emerge with a greater power than ever before. Stability and security have long been needed, even to the extent of creating heavily veiled possibilities of complete abolishment, but today these units face an opporunity. So does the Inter-organizational Council. They can graduate from an experiment to an impregnable position if they ride out the remainder of the storm.

Welfare Unit Says Thanks

Dear Students:

In their daily activities our workers in public welfare very often find families who have needs, many of which our agency budget cannot cover. Thus is more true at Christmas time than any other because of children's desires and expectations for gifts, extra clothing, and goodies.

These needs have been greatly reduced and in many instances entirely eliminated through the efforts of the students of the Brigham Young University. The better than 150 boxes of food, clothing, and toys furnished by them at Christmas time have brightened the hearts of some 250 children and a large number of parents who had found it next to impossible to provide anything for the children's Christmas.

We, the staff of the Utah County Department of Public Welfare, wish to extend to you our heartfelt appreciation for your splendid efforts in this wonderful project, and the fine cooperation your coordinating committee gave us in bringing the work to a successful conclusion.

The good of such an activity is hard to measure in dollars and cents, but we are sure the intangible values reaching far and wide will touch the lives of a multitude of people who have been as unfortunate as to experience much of the darker side of life.

May we wish you equal success in all of your undertakings, especially those in which you are attempting to exemplify as you have done in this one, the Master's teaching, "Love thy neighbor as thyself."

Yours sincerely,
Utah County Department of Public Welfare
William H. Callahan, County Director.

Glod Wishes to All, and to All, New Delight!

Though Rudolph's cheery ride is through
And Baby New Year's going on two Weeks old, these wishes must be said
Before our UNIVERSE goes to bed:
Greetings to those who are new among
The B Y's wise be sainted throng!
Let President Wilkinson find the school
Applauding his wish as a general rule,
Give each of the faculty new accounts
From which no single check shall bounce,
And wean the social dilletantes
From cults to culture, while he has the chance.
May Dr. Pardoe, in conquering bout,
Win over all critics before the year's out.
Lend Fidelas and Gamma Tau talent to "do"
(In cant) "their stuff" with R. & H. anew.
And happiness kiss the glowing mien
Of Widstoe Shumway, Arva Green,
Florence Stocks, Jim Brimhall,
Joseph Richey, and Merlin G. Paul.
Glad bells ring out for Lois and Norm,
And Leon and Lynn of the musical form;
May the Larsons and Taylors and Youngs et al
Enjoy an old English Twelfthtide brawl.
To Roylance, Ann, Ediefsen, Blaine,
The freres Clark; a world of gain.
Drs. Fletcher and Woodruff in new-won positions
Let prosper, and give the Y building additions
For the Class of '73 takes lease
As Riddles and Hunts and Horspools increase.
Bring Christensens, all, the prize they rate,
And John Connell, and Newell Weight,
LaVonne Thomander, Henry Chai,
Bertrand Todd, the staff of the WYE.
Invoking Time and Dr. Sperry,
We pray for ALL a new year merry!
(And hope that Hannah may have a look
By June inside a new cook book.)

Fund Drive Response Goal

by Dorothy Bartels

What could have been a very un-merry Christmas followed by a dismal New Year was averted by the generosity of Brigham Young University students during the drive to collect goods for needy families, according to Don Van Slooten, Los Angeles, chairman.

Donations were received from 59 campus organizations of every kind. In addition several Provo grade schools contributed toys and clothes and several downtown business firms contributed new clothing and toys.

Response to the drive was so complete that a surplus of more than 1000 pounds of clothing and toys and was turned over to the Church Welfare Center.

Cash Donations

Cash donations amounting to $722.96 were received from students and $668 of this amount was distributed after expenses were deducted.

A total of 336 persons were provided for, including 52 families and 44 foster children.

Each family box contained at least two individually wrapped packages for each family member, and each package contained several articles of clothing. Every child was provided with toys, including a doll for each girl. A supply of non-perishable food, candy, and nuts was also included in each family package. To supplement this, family boxes contained Christmas envelopes containing $5 to $10 (depending on the size of the family.

Clothing Packages

Foster children were given at least two packages of clothing, toys, and candy, as well as a Christmas envelope containing $2.

According to Mr. Van Slooten, "the success of the drive could not have been achieved without the complete cooperation of the entire studentbody."

Letters have been pouring in to the committee from families who were given aid. Two of them are reprinted here.

Dear Students:

I am writing to let you know I appreciate very much the Christmas things you sent us.

I wish to thank you from the bottom of my heart for the kindness you students show.

Thanks a million and may God be with you in your work.

Merry Christmas to All,

Dear Students of BYU:

We thank you very much for the nice Christmas you gave us.

May God bless all of you. I am writing in behalf of me and my children.

Thank you again.

According to Mr. Van Slooten and Afton Ash, AWS president, these are samples of the typical letters coming in from nearly all recipients of Christmas packages.

RUTH ELIZABETH LEWIS
. . . Dies in Car Mishap.

ROSE LARAE LOTT
. . . Plane Crash Victim.

Two BYU Coeds Lose Lives In Airplane, Auto Tragedies

Automobile and airplane crashes claimed the life of two Brigham Young University coeds who were returning home for the holidays.

Miss Rose LaRae Lott, 20, BYU sophomore, was killed with her father, Stanley, and younger brother, Wallace, 10, when their light plane crashed near Pendleton, Ore., in a heavy snow storm. The tragedy occurred December 20.

The second fatality, Ruth Elizabeth Lewis, Douglas, Ariz., sophomore, died instantly December 22, when the car in which she was riding careened from an Arizona highway and struck a concrete abutment, 100 miles north of her home.

Active at BYU, Miss Lott was a member of the Y Calcares and O. S. Trovata units. She was enrolled in the College of Fine Arts.

Her untimely death occurred when her father, former Lehi resident, flew his private plane to Provo to visit his family in Lehi and return with his daughter for the holidays. She is survived by her mother, the former Lela Wing, of Lehi, and a sister Stania Clarene.

Miss Lott was living with Phyllis Kearl, St. Clemons, Mich., at an apartment at 507 East Eighth North street in Provo.

Miss Lewis was a resident of Knight Hall. She was registered in the College of Education and was highly talented in dramatics. She won the Freedom Train Essay contest, was a four-year member of the dramatics and glee clubs, winner of the Elks Oratorical contest, and a member of the cast of "Ah! Men!" in high school.

A sister, Margaret, is current ly attending BYU.

Rehearsals for Coming Play Resume after Holiday Lull

Although delayed by the holidays, rehearsals for "John Loves Mary," third speech department production of the current school year, are now in full swing, according to Morris Clinger, director.

This gay story of marital mixups will be presented for five nights beginning the week of January 22. Students will be admitted on their activity cards, Mr. Clinger said.

Cast members include Joyce Sommerlads, Portland, Ore., and Keith Orme, Idaho Falls, in the title roles of John and Mary. Mary's parents, Senator James McKinley and his wife, Phyllis, will be portrayed by Wilford Smith of the BYU sociology faculty and Alice Brady, Las Vegas, Nev. John's wartime buddy, Fred Taylor, will be portrayed by Wesley Craig, Portland, Ore. Lilly, the other woman in the romantic mix-up, will be played by Nannette Crow, Monrovia, Calif. Others in the cast are Jo Ovreson, Pendleton, Ore., as Miss Beechwood, the Red Cross worker; Ed Davies, Seattle, Wash., as General Biddle, Ned Hoopes, Norwalk, Calif., as Oscar, the elevator man, and James Fife, Burlingame, Calif., as ex-lieutenant O'Leary.

Scholarship Offer Made to BYU By U. of Chicago

One student of Brigham Young University will be selected and recommended to the University of Chicago for a one-year graduate tuition scholarship, Dr. Asahel D. Woodruff, dean of the BYU graduate school, announced recently.

The selection will be made through an interviewing committee of five faculty members, and will be evaluated on his personal aptitude and academic record, Dr. Woodruff said.

The student must have completed the requirements for the bachelor's degree during the 1951-52 school year, Dr. Woodruff said. Applicants should apply as soon as possible.

The invitation was extended to BYU by Dr. Robert M. Strozier, chairman of the committee on fellowships and scholarships at the University of Chicago.

The deadline for selection is February 15, but all arrangements have to be completed by that time, it was emphasized.

Top Ten Stories of 1951 Reveal Many Changes In BYU's Biggest Year

by the Editors

The "Little New Year" was just about all anyone could say of 1951 a year ago. But though youthful, 1951 was full of promise, and looking back on it, we recognize it as one of the biggest years Brigham Young University ever had.

UNIVERSE editors, in going over the news of 1951, submit the following as BYU's top ten news stories during the year.

1. Reorganization of the First Presidency of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints occurred April 9, following the death of President George Albert Smith. Sustained as President of the Church, David O. McKay was also appointed President of the Board of Trustees of BYU.

2. Dr. Ernest L. Wilkinson, former Y student and more recently Washington, D. C. attorney, was inaugurated eighth president of Brigham Young University, October 8. Dr. Wilkinson assumed his duties February 1, 1951. He succeeded Dr. Christen Jensen who had directed BYU activities following the resignation of Dr. Howard S. McDonald in 1949.

AFROTC Established

3. BYU was one of the few universities over the nation that increased its previous enrollment figures in 1951, due in large part to the establishment on the Y campus of an AFROTC unit during the year. Now the largest in Utah, the unit was established following several months' conferences and talks by university officials with military ROTC directors. A permanent part of the Y since its establishment, the unit is headed by Col. Jesse E. Stay.

4. Hailed as the Golden Cougars, the Y basketball squad under inspired direction and coaching of Stan Watts, made basketball history and took the National Invitational Tournament in Madison Square Garden in March.

The Y swept to the NIT championship with lopsided victories over a trio of elite national quintets, and further glory was heaped upon the Cougars when Roland Minson was awarded the tournament's Most Valuable Player trophy.

A jam-packed Madison Square Garden sat in amazement as Coach Watts' proteges defeated St. Louis 75 to 58, Seton Hall 69 to 59, and Dayton in the finals 62 to 43.

Fieldhouse Completed

5. Another dream came true in '51 with the completion of a fieldhouse for BYU. The athletic plant, hailed as the finest in the intermountain country, was fifty years in the building, receiving "firsts" back in 1902. Periodically since that time, campus and Provo groups have pressed for a suitable athletic headquarters.

Announcement of plans and approval by the Board of Trustees of the Fieldhouse was in April, 1950. Actual construction proceeded during the year, and the official opening game was November 30 against Arizona, the Cougars taking the game 68 to 62.

6. Administration officials announced late in the year that Dr. Harvey Fletcher, leading scientist, director of acoustical research for Columbia University and director of physical research for Bell laboratories, would return to the Y campus in the fall of 1952. Formerly head of the BYU physics department from 1911 to 1916, Dr. Fletcher will direct research here.

Dean Eyring Dies

7. The death of Dr. Carl F. Eyring, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, occurred January 3, 1951. Dean Eyring spent most of his life at Brigham Young University, graduating in 1913, and later returning to work in the physics department.

Noted as a scientist, educator and churchman, Dean Eyring headed several military research groups, working principally in acoustics. His last contribution to BYU was as building committee chairman, supervising construction of the Science building.

8. Dr. Wesley P. Lloyd, dean of students, was selected to head an educational mission to Japan, according to announcements released through the presidents office in May.

The mission was organized at the request of the U. S. Supreme Command in the Pacific and the Japanese Ministry of Education. Dr. Lloyd was named director of a Japanese university and guidance institute which consisted of seven outstanding American educators in the field of student guidance and personnel services. He was granted a year's leave of absence.

Dr. Himes Resigns

Regisnation of Dr. Ellvert H. Himes, coordinator of student affairs and professor of education, was announced May 8. The announcement was made with notice of his appointment as president of Dixie Junior College, in St. George. Active as director of the university's policy to democratize social units, Dr. Himes' appointment to his new position became effective July 1.

9. Colleen Hutchins, five feet, ten inch former Y belle, was named Miss America in Atlantic City last September. Her dramatic reading of "Elizabeth the Queen" was a principal factor in the favorable decision of judges. Homecoming activities in November were highlighted by her return to BYU as honored guest. Ending speculation, the blonde Miss Hutchins informed a "Fieldhouse Follies" audience that her trophy was bigger than her brother Mel's.

10. Two consecutive All-American Honor Ratings were received by the UNIVERSE from the Associated Collegiate Press, national collegiate newspaper association, for the year 1951. The ratings were the first received by the UNIVERSE since 1949.

TOP BYU NEWS STORIES — 1951

1. Death of President George Albert Smith and subsequent reorganization of LDS Church First Presidency.
2. Inauguration of Ernest L. Wilkinson as eighth president of Brigham Young University.
3. Establishment of Air Force ROTC units on campus.
4. Brigham Young's basketball conquest in the National Invitational Tournament.
5. Opening of BYU's million dollar fieldhouse.
6. Appointment of Dr. Harvey Fletcher as director of research at BYU.
7. Death of Dean Carl F. Eyring.
8. Loss of two administration officials: Dean of Students Wesley P. Lloyd as head of a United States educational mission to Japan, and appointment of student coordinator Ellvert H. Himes as president of Dixie Junior College.
9. Return of Miss America, Colleen Hutchins, to BYU's 1951 Homecoming.
10. Awarding of an All-American rating to the UNIVERSE for both semesters in 1950-51.

Faculty Urged To Contribute In Book Drive

Contributions of books to the Dr. H. Wayne Driggs memorial library may still be made until Friday, according to Prof. Ralph A. Britsch, area representative from the Brigham Young University faculty.

Many faculty members have already made generous gifts that have brought the total number of volumes collected to nearly 220. As many as 29 books have been presented by a single family, Prof. Britsch said.

The project has a two-fold purpose in providing a permanent memorial for Dr. Driggs, former president of Branch Agricultural College and faculty member of BYU, and in restoring in part the BAC library that was nearly destroyed by fire in 1948.

Names of donors will be recorded on the fly-leaf of each book.

AFROTC Chorus Slates Auditions

Auditions will be held until January 18 for all AFROTC students interested in becoming members of an Air Force ROTC chorus.

Students may sign the audition roster on the bulletin board in the Brimhall building. They should watch the bulletin board for dates of individual auditions and further information.

Virgil Camp, assistant a cappella choir director, will lead the chorus. Mr. Camp has taken parts in operas and other vocal performances while attending BYU. He recently directed his own assembly program, "Melody Intermission."

Student Supply Will Handle School Rings

Brigham Young University school rings, available to the entire studentbody, can now be ordered at the Bookstore, according to Mark Money, studentbody business manager.

Selection of the bookstore as sole distributor of the rings followed a meeting of a legislative council committee with Coy Miles, representative for O. C. Tanner Co., supplier of the rings, and Neil McKnight, manager of the student supply center.

Retail prices of the rings took a five per cent jump as a result of the transaction, but the convenience with which the emblems can now be secured should more than offset the additional price paid, Mr. Money said.

To aid in the promotion and sale of the ring, O. C. Tanner Co. agreed to compile and print a brochure to distribute to members of the Alumni Association.

AROUND THE WORLD—Professor Ray Wight and Associated Press representative M. G. Derrick survey the installation of an AP teletype machine located in the North building that will bring world news to BYU.

Hot off the Wire . . .

Associated Press Teletype Installed in North Building

With the beginning of regular teletype transmission in the North building yesterday, Brigham Young University became the first college in the Intermountain area to affiliate with the Associated Press.

Arrangements for the new AP service were completed by Wilfred Fellaber, chief of the AP bureau in Salt Lake City, and Dr. Oliver R. Smith, chairman of the BYU journalism department.

The new AP connection will replace the daily wire report which, for the past four years, the journalism department has received from another news service.

The teletype machine is located in a special room near the Journalism department offices on the east-west corridor of the North building. The room is provided with a glass window so that persons standing in the hall can read the news dispatches as they are typed off by the machine. The machine will report from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m., daily except Sunday.

The news report will include comprehensive coverage of state, national and world news as well as sports coverage, market reports and other special news features. The daily news report will be used by journalism department laboratory classes in copyreading, headline writing and newspaper makeup. These classes form an essential part of students' technical training for newspaper careers.

February Deadline Posted on Grant From Foundation

Applications for Danforth Foundation fellowships should be made to the office of Dr. Asahel D. Woodruff, dean of the Brigham Young University Graduate School, not later than February 1, 1952.

The awards are for either prospective college or high school teachers. They are made available to college seniors and recent graduates who are preparing for a teaching career, and planning to enter graduate school in September, 1952, for their first year of graduate study, according to Dr. Woodruff.

The awards, granted on the basis of need with the amounts varying from $500 to $2400, are given for fulfillment of the following requirements:

1. Evidence of superior intellectual ability in college record. 2. Good record of health and emotional stability. 3. Outgoing personality and the concern for people, essential for successful teaching. 4. Choice of vocation of teaching as a form of Christian service. 5. Deep religious convictions and growing religious perspectives.

No recommendations will be accepted by the Danforth Foundation except through the office of Dr. Woodruff, where application blanks are available.

Graduate Record Exam Recommended by Dean

All seniors who anticipate going into graduate programs either at Brigham Young University or elsewhere should seriously consider taking the graduate record examination scheduled February 1 and 2, according to Dr. Asahel D. Woodruff, dean of the Graduate School.

Registration for the examination must be made on application forms available in the graduate school office.

the forms must be mailed in order to reach Los Angeles, not later than January 18.

Those planning to do graduate work at BYU are required to take it as a part of their admission procedure to the Graduate School. Unless it is taken prior to the date of admission, the student is admitted only tentatively with no assurance that his work can apply on a degree, Dr Woodruff said.

Exam Required

According to Dr. Woodruff, the graduate record examination scores are either required or desired by the great majority of graduate schools throughout the country.

Students who are able to send these scores with their application forms generally receive preferred treatment, whereas others frequently have to wait until the scores are available, he said.

At BYU applicants must submit complete credentials one month before registration in the Graduate School. This rule applies to all students whether they were previously enrolled here or not.

Additional Data

Besides the graduate record scores, students must submit their application, recommendations, undergraduate transcripts. Students should inquire at the Graduate School offices to determine which parts of the graduate record examination they must take.

Speech Professor Represents BYU At Chicago Meet

Dr. Alonzo J. Morley, Brigham Young University professor of speech pathology and speech correction, recently returned from a convention of speech, hearing, educational theatre and forensics in Chicago.

He represented BYU at the joint meeting of the Speech Association of America, the American Speech and Hearing Association, The American Educational Theatre association, the National University Extension Committee on Debate, the American Forensic Association, and the National Society for the study of Communications.

Almost 2000 representatives attended the meet, according to Dr. Morley, who participated in several discussions, especially in the speech and hearing groups.

Hunt, Ballou Attend Band Convention

Norman J. Hunt, director of Brigham Young University bands, and Richard Ballou, varsity band director, attended the Western Division of the College Band Directors Association held in Hollywood December 26-28.

Lecture sessions on the various band instruments, and sessions by specialists on all band sections were presented. Authorities Robert Marsteller, trombone; and Max Pottag and Wendell Hoss, French horn, conducted demonstration lecture periods.

Social Briefs

NAUTILUS

Nautilus welcomed in the new year and the new quarter with a short business meeting last Thursday night. Plans for winter quarter activities were discussed.

An officers' meeting will be held every Wednesday at noon in 270 Smith. It is important that all the officers attend. Meetings are held Thursdays at 6:30 in the same room as last quarter. Banjan picture appointments are on the agenda this week as well as several other matters.

IDAHO CLUB

Idaho Club meetings will be held each Wednesday in room 270 P. S. at 8 p.m. during winter quarter unless otherwise announced, according to president Ted Johnson.

Discussion of an Idaho Club entry in the intramural basketball program will highlight tomorrow night's meeting.

Fall quarter activities were climaxed by a party with approximately 70 Idahoans in attendance.

Hot Skyline Eight Race Underway

by Ted Johnson

Having been inaugurated by the Utah-New Mexico game last Thursday, the Skyline Elght conference gets its basketball schedule well underway with a full round of contests this week end.

A game that will be of interest to Utah valley residents, as well as BYU students, will be the tilt to be played in the new Y fieldhouse with the Denver Pioneers. The Denver squad, back with plenty of last year's talent, will be out to clobber the Cats and start their drive toward the conference crown. The Cougars, who have been working vigorously since their return from the Sugar Bowl tourney, will be playing their first conference game in their new athletic plant and should give the Pioneers a powerful scrap. This game is picked by many to be the outstanding game of the evening.

The Ute fieldhouse will be the scene of the Utah-Montana game on Friday night. Utah, boasting one of the best pre-season records in the conference, will be driving toward the top rung in the loop ladder, and many writers pick them to be the best team in the area. Utah has not come up with a conference crown in the past 21 years, although they have won two national titles.

Wyoming will tackle the New Mexico five in their initial tilt of the league season. The Lobos will invade the Cowboy strong hold for the tussle and are rated as underdogs in the affair. The Lobos lost to the University of Utah last Thursday, although they gave the Utes more of a fight than the Utahns bargained for.

Aggies Teams Clash

Fort Collins will also see action on the hardwoods this week end. The home-standing Colorado A&M Rams will play host to their fellow-farmers from over the hill, the Utah State Aggies. The Rams still are a big question mark in pre-season ratings as are the Farmers from Logan. The Utags will be picked to walk off the floor with the laurels, but the A&M quintet could stage an upset and give the home-town crowd a pleasant surprise.

Following the Friday night games the visiting teams will change opponents and courts. Utah will take on Denver, while the Grizzlies from Montana will invade the Cougar lair. Utah State moves in on the Wyoming Cowboys, and the remaining tilt on Saturday night will find the Colorado A&M quint entertaining the New Mexicans.

In all, this week end promises plenty of top-flight basketball in the Intermountain West; a week end that blows the cork off the seething bottle of conference competition and inaugurates what is expected to be an outstanding year in the Skyline basketball circle.

Y Sugar Bowl Losses Give Cagers 5-5 Toll

by Chet Harris

Brigham Young University's roundball wayfarers finished up their pre-season schedule in rather mediocre style at New Orleans by dropping a pair of Sugar Bowl tourney games just a couple of day before old father time grabbed his scythe and headed for exit.

That disastrous escapade gave the Cougars a 5-5 won and lost mark in competition with some of the nation's top casaba squads. But it's a new year and Coach Stan Watts hopes there'll be a new twist to the plot being woven by his defending NIT champs this season.

Right now, the Y mentor has his proteges pounding the hardwoods in preparation for the conference opener with Denver Friday night in the fieldhouse. The Pioneers have been rated about the same strength as the Cougars and the game should light the way to more guessing on the anticipated torrid title fight.

The game will be the first in nearly two weeks for the Cats, and they will be after their first victory in nearly three weeks.

Perhaps the long rest from the cage wars will be a dose of just what the doctor ordered to rejuvenate the crew and give them time to work out the bugs now hampering their winning machine.

Same Troubles

In the Sugar Bowl tourney the Cougars were bothered by the same troubles that have plagued them all season. Foremost of these was an inability to control the backboards. The Y cagers lack height but even the tall boys fail to hold their own with the opposition when it comes to that all-important task of gathering in rebounds. Here's where the hole left by All-American Mel Hutchins seems so deep and hard to fill. The tremendous fast breaking offense which marked the play of the champs last year and which was expected to carry the team this year is stymied without control of the boards.

Also troubling the Cougars is a failure to hit the hoop consistently. This has been true especially on foul shots where the Y quintet missed point after point.

The Cats have also proven not too sharp in their defensive play.

Possibly underlying these latter two problems has been a tension which has gripped the squad during their play at times. Having won the conference title and the NIT championship last year the Y hoopsters feel the pressure.

Sugar Bowl Tourney

The results of the Cougar clashes in New Orleans were just what was expected only more so. Twice the BYU quint stuck its fingers into the Sugar Bowl hoping for the sweet taste of victory but both times the finger was licked only to find a bitter flavor.

Kentucky, which then rated the number 2 spot in national rankings, was the Cat's first opponent. The blue grass cagers were held close by the Provoans during the first quarter but they broke lose in the second and coasted on to an easy 84-64 win.

Kentucky was missing the services of Bill Spicey, seven foot All-American, but a sub called Hagan filled Spivey's shoes quite snugly by pouring 24 points through the hoop in pacing his mates to the victory.

Jerry Romney was high man for the Cougars with 16 points. Nick Matelijan, a freshman, potted 14 points as Y boosters smiled in anticipation of this youngster's future on BYU squads.

The 84 points racked up by the hoop happy Kentucky Wildcats was a new tournament record.

Record Established

Another tourney record was established against the Cougars the following night when Larry Hennessey cut the cords for 36 points in a 72 to 58 Villanova victory.

Villanova took an early lead and held it throughout the game. They led 39 to 31 at the middle mark.

Fireball Joe Richey led the Cats with 15 points.

The four team tourney was copped by St. Louis who upset

BYU Women Hear Utah Civic Leader

Mrs. Frank Evans, distinguished lawyer and civic leader, was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Brigham Young University Women held Saturday.

Her topic was "Women as Ambassadors of Peace," and she called attention to the role of women as intermediaries in times of crisis, hatreds, ill-will, and misunderstanding.

A native of Salt Lake City, she was admitted to the Utah State Bar in 1925 and is well-known for her service in civic, community, patriotic, social, and church affairs.

Chairman of the meeting was Mrs. Avery Caine and her committee members included: Mrs. Ray Beickam, Mrs. Clinton Larson, Mrs. Irene B. Woodford, Mrs. Wayne Soffe, Mrs. Gaylen Caldwell, and Miss Reola Clark.

Preseason Review

the Kentuckians 61 to 60 in the final few seconds of the championship game.

Perhaps the brightest spot of the pre-season schedule was the Cougars double drubbing of Santa Clara in their final home games before leaving for the Sugar Bowl tourney. Even though the Broncs towered over the Y cagers they were outplayed as the Cougars displayed their best rebounding work of the season.

After a see-saw battle throughout the first game, BYU pulled away in the final minutes to win 64 to 59.

It took the Cats the regular four periods and an overtime to subdue the Santa Clara cagers the second night but they ended up going away on a 66-61 tally.

Lead at Half

The Broncos led 25 to 24 at the half but a 21 point splurge put the Cougars in the lead at the end of the three-quarter mark.

Santa Clara came hustling back, however, to make the score 56 to 55 with second to go. Romney, pressing a tight defense, was then charged with a foul and victim John Benedetti made good to send the game into the extra period. From there out the Y took complete command.

INTRAMURAL BIDS DUE THURSDAY

Rough, rugged, fast and exciting is the prediction for this year's basketball intramural competition.

Coach Clarence Robison, intramural director, announced that all team entries should be submitted to his office not later than Thursday, Jan. 10.

Games will be played each week night and, unless previous fears, each team will compete two nights each week. Games will be played in the new fieldhouse from 4 to 8 p.m.

Each entry turned in to Coach Robison should include: name of team, name and phone number of the team manager and names of the team members. Teams should indicate any nights on which they would not be able to play.

Director Announces Ski Class Openings

There are still a few openings in the Monday and Saturday Brigham Young University ski classes, according to Dr. Leona Holbrook, director of the courses.

Registrants have shown high enthusiasm in their response to the winter sport. Due to the great demand by Utah students to master the sport, and the desire of out-of-state students to learn to ski while in the snow country, special effort has been made by the BYU department of physical education to provide for all interested students.

Arrangements for the use of facilities, and the scheduling of instructors have been completed. Monday classes will meet at 1 p.m.; Saturday classes are scheduled at 7:45 a.m. All classes will go skiing ten times, and are scheduled to go to Timp Haven at the time of the first class session. Students who present their fee receipt and are equipped will be able to complete the 10-lesson course, Dr. Holbrook said.

Upsets Dot Skyline Play As Utes Assume Lead

Last week end inaugurated the Skyline Conference Basketball schedule with a rousing list of openers. Utah and New Mexico had the honor of starting the 1952 loop play on Thursday, with Utah State, Montana, and Denver getting into the act on Saturday night.

As was expected by most sports fans in the area, Utah won over the Lobos in the latest fair on Thursday night. The surprising part of that game is not the winner, but the way that the losing quintet, the Lobos, battled the Utes, who were rated far above the New Mexico five. The final score for the contest was 59-47 for Utah.

Major Upset

The major upset or eye-opener of the past week end was the Montana-Utah State battle, which was played in Logan on Saturday. Montana, a newcomer to the Skyline ranks, was unheralded as far as other Skyline schools were concerned. In most pre-season predictions, the Grizzlies were listed as one of the three weakest teams in the Rocky Mountain loop. Saturday night, they gave a good account of what is to be expected from the far Northern end of the circuit, as far as the casaba court is concerned.

Utah State, on the other hand, was supposed to be a pretty fair ball club this season and they lived up to most expectations, that is, up to the last three minutes of play.

Farmers Collapse

Leading all the way through the contest, the Farmers seemed to be the better of the two ball clubs, and with only five minutes remaining on the fieldhouse clock, the Utags held a 64-58 lead. That is when the Grizzlies put on their big show. Dumping in three field goals in the next two minutes, the Montanans tied the game 64-64 at the three minute mark. The Aggies tried hard to overcome the surging drive of the goal-happy Grizzlies, but their efforts only brought them to within two points of the victorious Montana aggregation. When the dust had finally cleared away, the scoreboard showed 72 for Montana and 70 for the Utah Staters.

Another contest which finished in the upset bracket was the New Mexico-Colorado A&M tilt, Saturday night. New Mexico, a newcomer to the Skyline group was not given much chance to succeed in the current season. On the other hand, the Colags from Fort Collins were expected to be in the rough class. New Mexico put the switch to the Rams and staged a thrilling 64-63 upset over the hapless Colorado lads. This gives the Lobos a 1 and 1 record for the first week's play in the eight team loop.

Utes Win Again

The University of Utah chalked up their second conference win of the season, when they dumped the Denver Pioneers from the ranks of the unbeaten. This, however, was the first game for the D. U. squad. The game, played in the Denver arena, was under the control of the Redmen from the starting whistle and they enjoyed a comfortable margin throughout most of the tilt. Utah, picked as one of the strongest teams in the conference, used only six men in the tussle, while Denver alternately used nine hoopsters.

The final score for the game was 69-38 for Utah, with the Skins' Bruce Goodrich copping top honors with a total of 17 tallies.

BYU meets both the University of Montana and Denver University in their opening tilts in Provo this week end.

Harvard Astronomer To Address Sigma Xi

Dr. Walter Orr Roberts astronomer, lecturer and director of Harvard University's High Altitude Observatory at Boulder, Colo., will address the Brigham Young University chapter of Sigma Xi, national honorary science fraternity, tonight at 8 p.m. in room 260 Science building.

According to Dr. Bertrand F. Harrison, chairman of the BYU botany department and secretary of the local chapter, Dr. Roberts will be the annual speaker from national headquarters. His topic will be "Some Unsolved Problems of the Sun's Atmosphere."

Joining with Sigma Xi for the lecture will be student affiliates of the American Chemical Society, members of Sigma Pi Sigma, national honorary physics society; and members of Beta Beta Beta, honorary biological fraternity. Anyone else interested is invited to attend.

After winning several fellowships and awards for outstanding scholastic achievements at Amherst College, Dr. Roberts proceeded to obtain his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees in astronomy at Harvard.

Dr. Roberts' lectures have been published widely, and has conducted a series of radio programs. As a lecturer he makes frequent appearances in the Rocky Mountain area.

Bateman Releases Date of Tryouts In Rotary Contest

Preliminary tryouts for the annual Rotary oratorical contest will be held January 15, at 3 p.m., in the speech center.

The entire studentbody is eligible to enter the contest which is sponsored by the Provo Rotary club. Orations may be on any phase of world peace and should be eight to 10 minutes long.

Three finalists will give their talks before the Rotary club on January 18 for final awards.

Dr. LaVar Bateman, in announcing the contest, stated that it was one of the oldest oratory contests in the state. The annual affair, featuring original orations, was organized in 1920 by Dr. T. Earl Pardoe, speech department chairman.

Further information may be obtained from Dr. Bateman.

Cadets with D's Face Crucial Winter Quarter

Winter quarter will be a crucial one for some 200 AFROTC students who made D grades fall quarter, according to Col. Jesse E. Stay, commanding officer of the Brigham Young University unit.

These students will be on probation with the ROTC program during winter quarter, and will be dropped if they do not improve their grades.

Approximately four per cent of the Air Science students, a slightly lower figure than for most ROTC units, failed completely and were dropped.

About 10 per cent A's were given, 25 per cent B's, 40 per cent C's, 20 per cent D's, and four per cent E's, indicating that BYU students are doing well generally.

Col. Stay stated, however, that students who do not keep their grades up cannot expect to be held in the ROTC program.

Student Recital Dated Tonight

The first student recital of the 1951-52 series has been set for performance today at 7 p.m. in room 250 College building, according to Norman Gulbrandsen, director of student recitals.

Works by Bach, Vivaldi, Schubert, Schumann, Liszt, Chopin, Strauss, Leoncavallo, Kreisler, MacDowell, and Debussy, have been scheduled for performance.

Soloists are: LaVonne Thomander, Maplewood, N. J., pianist, Anna Julia Hoyt, Nephi, violinist, Newell Thurman, Blackfoot, Ida., baratone; Bonnie Barrett, Provo, pianist; Mary Katherine Sharp, Redlands, Calif., pianist; Kent A. Hansen, St. George, tenor, Grace Hansen, Provo, violinist, Charlote Mullen, Pocatello, Ida., pianist; and Shirley Allen, Raymond, Alberta, Canada, pianist.

Accompanist include Martine Putnam and Carol Whatcott, Provo, and Lawrence Wilson, Roosevelt.

The recital is open to the public.

Atomic Energy Show Planned for February

Brigham Young University will present the nation's most complete atomic energy show February 26 and 27 in the Joseph Smith ballroom, it was announced today by Ray Beckham of the extension division and Dr. Wayne B. Hales, physics professor, co-chairmen.

The show is being provided by the American Museum of Atomic Energy at Oak Ridge, Tenn. The museum, only one of its kind in the world, is operated for the United States Atomic Energy Commission by the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies. Mr. Beckham worked out details with the National University Extension Association for the huge exhibit to visit Provo.

Intended to give the public better understanding of the mysteries, benefits and powers of atomic energy, the exhibit contains many machines and charts for the public demonstrations. The entire show will be transported to the BYU campus in a large moving van.

In addition to the 5300 students on the campus, the exhibit is expected to be visited by thousands of interested persons from the entire state. Tours will be arranged for school children, and symposia will be held for clubs, editors, teachers, and public school students, with the exhibit serving as demonstration material.
